Storage Solutions Design

Need storage solutions and design work for a refit?

We can help – we have partnered with a national company which has specific expertise and experience in medical storage, which will ensure your requirements are met as well as those of the AS/NZS 4187 standard.

We provide the initial consultation, taking measurements and photos as well as getting an understanding of your requirements.

This will be forwarded to the experts, who will then work directly with you. They will provide you with a number of options, expressed in floorplans and 3D images.

No job is too small or too large.
